John Lawson
Senior Executive Vice President

A good portion of The Boldt Company's reputation as one of the most experienced construction firms in the country can be attributed directly to John Lawson.

With more than 30 years of varied experience to his name, John has bid/negotiated, organized, staffed, coordinated and guided to successful completion literally thousands of projects, many for some of the world's largest corporations. Prior to joining Boldt, he amassed more than 10 years of engineering experience in industrial project management.

But he'd be the first to attest that he hasn't done it alone. His commitment to staff is equally unshakable. John has been instrumental in the professional development of younger architectural and engineering staff, carefully selecting projects that match their skill levels and allowing them to mature within well-defined areas of responsibility. The net result is a high-functioning and efficient team of professionals who continue to raise the bar on themselves, the company and the industry as a whole.

John is a graduate of Michigan Technological University, with a bachelor's degree in engineering. He also holds a degree in engineering technology from Lakehead University in Thunder Bay, Ontario, Canada.
